Hon, Horace Maynard,

Our distinguished Representative in Congress and Mrs. Maynard returned to their home from Washington yesterday. Mrs. Maying has been suffering somewhat from indisposition during her sojdurn at the Capital, but is now enjoying her usual health. Notwithstanding the long session of Congress, and Mr. Maynard's ardous duties, he is enjoying excellent health. He will be welcomed home by his many friends, who have ever recognized in him a faithful representative of their interests, and f the interests of the whole country. He brings with him the welcome tidings that he seeming dissentions in the Republican party at the Capital are fast giving way, and that from all parts of the country Republicans are uniting with a determination to win another grand victory, equal in its results to any they have achieved since the guns of Fort Sumpter awakened the American people to the real intentions of Democracy. With Gen. Grant as our leader, it will be as difficult for them to succeed, either by strategy or force, as it was when Lee and Johnson were the leaders. He says that the President has more friends and warmer ones, than at any former time in his administration. All opposition is giving away before the logic of facts which are presenting themselves to the people.

This sale will afford merchants an opportunity of seeing the merits of a system with which they are not familiar, but which has been of immense benefit in other

The stock is composed of fresh goods direct from Chicago, and embraces full lines of boots, shoes, hats, lawns, calicoes, domestics, tickings, lineas, saddles and notions of all kinds in end-less variety, which will be sold to the highest bidder. The sale will commence at 2 P.M. today, so as to allow dealers from a distance who are expected on the different trains an opportunity of seeing the stock unbrokening off of eno

The goods will be sold by the genial Ned verbial, and whose fair dealing is alike well known. One reason why our merchants, have not appreciated the sales of goods by auction is that they were not properly conducted, but in this instance they need have no fears, as the reputation of the auctioneers, Messrs. McC. & Co., is a sufficient guaranty to the contrary.

CONSUMPTION. ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away for whose leath there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are deeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality by his medicines and his directions for their use, in quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr.

that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of with all its distressing symptoms of CONSUMPTION. The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Na-ture's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calored erties of calomel, but, unlike calomel, the LEAVE NO STING BEHIND." The work of cure is now beginning. The vittated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last, A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Sea-weed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Caylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifice ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature can not be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, he petients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure can not be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last states.

modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains, and night-sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added e Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; m weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."
Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, cevery Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 P.m. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First create appetite no other accompaniments than the ample most retions that accompany them: First create appetite.

Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome of returning health, hunger is the most welcome, let the Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night-sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symp-abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pilis are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea-weed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.
